

An aerial view of Westford Bridge showing the large tract of nature reserve that makes this such a unique estate. Only seven kilometers from the centre of town, it combines the feel of "country living" with the convenience of proximity to all amenities. Flora and fauna abound and there are several kilometers of trails that traverse the area, making it one of the most desirable places to live on the Garden Route.

